

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

House Asked to Increase Powers of Railroad Commission.

Atlanta, July 31.—With only one dissenting vote, the house committee on railroads recommended the passage of the Candler bill. The bill, before being voted on, was amended by the author as to minor points in several minor particulars.

J. Hill Hall, of Bibb, cast the only dissenting vote against the favorable report on the bill. He will lead the fight in the house on that provision of the bill increasing the number of commissioners from three to five members.

Exhaustive argument was delivered on the bill Monday afternoon in the presence of many interested spectators.

Penitentiary Matters.

With Mr. Holder, of Pauld, as chairman, the house committee on penitentiary matters, was organized Monday afternoon and several of the bills referred to this committee acted upon.

Chief of these was that measure which has already been passed by the senate, and of which Senator Brown is the author, providing for the inspection by subcommittees from the house and senate of the various convict camps of the state when the general assembly is not in session. This was agreed to without a dissenting vote.

What promises to revolutionize the system of examining and checking up banks in Georgia is the bill in this state which is to create a bureau of banking, as passed by the house, is enacted into a law.

This bill is the evolution of exhaustive study by the leading bankers of the state and was especially recommended by the legislative committee of the Georgia Bankers' association, of which Joseph McCord, of Atlanta is chairman.

One charter will serve for both gas and electric companies whereby power can be furnished for heat, light and operation purposes if the senate bill, passed by that body and favorably recommended by the house committee on corporations, becomes a law.

Special Judiciary Committee.

At a well-attended meeting of the special judiciary committee Monday afternoon, presided over by Vice Chairman Wacker, of Washington, that bill by Mr. McMichael, of Marion, increasing the compensation of the secretaries to supreme court justices from $1,500 to $2,000 a year was favorably reported. In view of the increased burden placed upon this court and the consequent expense secretaries who were out on the decisions, this increase was felt to be deserved.

A number of bills were acted upon favorably by the committee before adjourning subject to the call of the chairman.

GETS HIS FREEDOM.

Charles H. Moyer Released from Custody on Heavy Bond.

Bolton, Ga., July 31.—Judge Wagon in the district court Monday afternoon ordered Charles H. Moyer, prisoner of the Western Penitentiary at Marion, admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. Cash bail may be given.

The trial of George A. Pettibone, one of the alleged conspirators, was set for Tuesday, Oct. 1. No application for bond was made in behalf of Pettibone, the conference of counsel having been fruitless in this respect.

Haywood expects to leave for Denver on Thursday, Moyer may leave Wednesday if there is no hitch in the bail proceedings.

Children in Pain

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Jealousy Caused Much Shooting.

Ardmore, I. T., July 30.—At Wardensburg, I. T., Edgar Ball, a railroad employee, shot and fatally wounded his young wife, and his sister-in-law, Miss Maggie Dobson, through the thigh, then shot himself through the heart. Jealousy is supposed to be the motive for the crime.

DOGFISH CUTLET.

Said to Be as Good as the Best Lobster Ever Eaten.

Dogfish ought to be good to eat, as it is well known that they feed on crabs, prawns and clammers. The naturalist hunting from the north Kent narrows with which I collaborated in various books said that in his boyhood they were much prized by the fishing folk and that they were excellent eating and died either being considered by many to be as good as the best lobster ever eaten. As a boy he never tired of hearing the fishermen's yarns about how the great saucer-shaped, snout-like and fought with the were captured. Lying in the bottom of the boats, they looked about at the sea and at each other. The larger ones would fly on the men's sea boots as they moved about or hang on to their oil skin fishing coats like bulldogs. A bite from one was no joke.

Dogfish abounded at certain seasons in some parts of the fishing grounds; other parts they avoided. Sometimes the men would go out only to catch dogfish just to reduce their numbers a little. They caught great numbers of them and sold them somewhere further down the coast, keeping back just a few for themselves and their neighbors. You could get a monster for a couple of shillings.

Cornish naturalist says he has known 20,000 of the picked dogfish to be taken at one cast of the seine. Robert Chalmers quoted as follows from the "Journal" of Scilly, the town clerk of Abbeville, 1842. From the beginning of this year up to June there was a scarcity of whitefish along the east coast to the hurt and anger of the poor and beggarly of the fishermen. It was reported that when the fishers had laid their lines and taken fishes abundantly there came one beast called the scud to the lines and ate and destroyed the bait bodies and left nothing on the lines but the heads. The like scarcity of fishes to continue so long has scarcely been seen in Scotland, while all other meats were also very dear. — Pall Mall Gazette.

A FAMOUS DUELIST.

This French Fighter Was Gallant as Well as Courageous.

The Marquis de l'Angle Beaumanoir was in his younger days famous as a duelist. One evening, meeting his cousin, the Marquis du Hallays, in the foyer of the Opera, he walked up to him and in the course of conversation remarked:

"Isn't it odd, my dear fellow, that quarrelsomeness as you and I are, we should never have fought with one another?"

"That's true," replied Du Hallays, "but that can always be remedied."

And on the strength of that the two cousins met in mortal combat on the following morning, the encounter resulting in the Marquis de l'Angle Beaumanoir having his right hand pierced by his adversary's rapier, which, while it rendered a continuance of the fight impossible, left the other hand free to grasp that of his cousin in undiminished friendship a moment afterward.

On another occasion when he was about to fight a duel in which he was entirely in the right and his adversary in the wrong he suddenly discovered that his opponent was a perfect novice in swordsmanship and that he would therefore have him completely at his mercy. So he strode up to him and in the presence of twenty or thirty persons presented the most courteous and full apology. Almost dumfounded, the latter inquired why the marquis assumed such an extraordinary course. "Because," he returned, "it would really be too unfortunate if I were to fight with a mazette (greenhorn)." And with that he made a low bow and then turned his back upon him.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from eruptions. But when the blood becomes infected with some unwholesome humor, the skin is covered with rashes, eruptions, boils and pimples, or other skin diseases. The skin is provided with pores and glands which are constantly passing through the skin a stream of nourishing blood. When the blood becomes filled with humors and aches, it is driven off through the pores and glands, forming and creating the skin diseases. The treatment of skin trouble is not along the right line. True, such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort and aids in keeping the skin clear, but it does not reach the real cause of the trouble, which are humors in the blood, and it can therefore have no real curative effect on these skin ailments. S. S. S., a gentle acting and perfect blood purifier, is the best and quickest treatment. It goes down into the blood and removes the humors, detritus and poisons from the circulation, cools the overheated blood, and by sending a fresh stream of nourishing blood to the skin permanently cures skin diseases of every character. S. S. S. is made entirely of health-producing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Acne, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Psoriasis, and all other disagreeable and unsightly eruptions of the skin. Special books on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired furnished free to all who write.
